Petitions May Block Montrose Annexation

MAJORITY CLAIMED BY OPPONENTS

Names Filed With Glendale City Council

In a Glendale City Council chamber overflowing with protestants, residents of Montrose and adjacent areas today filed petitions seeking to block the proposed Dec. 11 election for annexation of their areas to the city of Glendale. (See Foothill Forum on Page A2.)

The Glendale Council adjourned today's session until Saturday morning at 11 o'clock to allow the Glendale city clerk to check the sufficiency of the protesting signatures.

Enough Signatures?

Nelson Hayward, La Crescenta property owner and president of the Crescenta Valley County Water District, said he is confident the Glendale city clerk will ascertain there are sufficient signatures to prevent the holding of the Dec. 11 annexation election.

Hayward said that 51 per cent of the signatures of the property owners are required to halt election proceedings and that the petitions included names of more than the 51 per cent of the property owners.

If the Dec. 11 Glendale annexation election is prevented by the petitions, residents of the foothill area north of Glendale in the Honolulu Avenue, New York Avenue and Chevy Chase Drive areas will go to the polls a week later on Dec. 18 to vote on the proposed formation of the Foothill Municipal Water District.

City Officials Hooted, Boomed Over Annexation

Glendale city officials were hooted and boomed today at a noisy hearing on objections to proposals to annex the New York avenue, Chevy Chase drive and Honolulu avenue districts.

Hoots of disbelief came from a packed council room, filled mostly with women, when councilmen and other officials declared they had no interest in the annexation proposals.

The council first voted to shut off debate and take up the hearing at 11 a. m. Saturday, but yielded to cries of "No, no" and more hooing and went ahead with hearing protests.

The council previously set an election for Dec. 11 in which property owners in the district vote on annexation. The council must act on objections by Saturday. Meanwhile, the city clerk will check the validity of signatures of petitions opposing the annexations.

H. B. Hansen, of Montrose, charged the signatures on the original petitions requesting annexation were "not obtained in good faith."

The city clerk, Glenn E. Chapman, told the council that on the New York avenue district alone he had received 113 petitions and 214 letters opposing the annexation, and that 473 signers of the original petitions had asked that their names be withdrawn.
